Q: WHAT IS TITLE IX?

A: Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 states:

“No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving federal financial assistance.”

Q: WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

A: As a member of the TCNJ community you have the right to be protected from sex discrimination under Title IX. Within recent years the government has stated that sexual assault is the most egregious form of sexual discrimination and all schools are responsible for ensuring a hostile-free environment on-campus. TCNJ is committed to ensuring that any member of its community who has experienced sexual violence, dating violence, or stalking has a network of support and resources available to them.
